Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Thursday 16 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mostly cloudy but dry. Clearer in north, but overnight fog.

Today:
Generally mild and cloudy, but dry. Brighter conditions are likely across the north of the region, although morning fog patches are possible here, and these may be slow to clear. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tonight:
Remaining largely cloudy but dry. However, clear spells across the north of the region is likely to cause some patches of fog to form overnight. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Friday:
Predominantly cloudy across the region on Friday, but staying largely dry. Winds will be light and it will continue to feel mild for the time of year. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Predominantly dry and cloudy conditions continue this weekend, but becoming cooler, with a risk of overnight frost and fog. Sunny spells Monday, but the odd light shower too.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.